

To Whom It May Concern

Dániel Székely joined our company in 2011, mediated by a hostes agency. Initially, he has held a promoter post, to generate sales of products in the shops. He attracted the attention with his outstanding sales figures.

Dániel Székely has become a permanent employee with his exceptional technical sense, where he has held several posts, where it appeared, that he can work independently as well as a part of a team.

Mr. Székely is an intelligent young gentleman, who very quickly grasps what is required of him in various roles. He is conscientious, methodical and utterly reliable. His punctuality and commitment to his work is excellent. He has an easy, friendly disposition and he has forged very good relationship with his colleagues.

We have come to rely on him greatly and he gives one hundred per cent to all that he tackles and is always successful, so I believe Mr Szekely is appropriate for the position advertised by you. He will be an asset to any future establishment.

Sincerely,

Mária Marosi
